YAMA YAMA EVENT
DRAWS NICE CROWD

The first big social event of the winter season was held last evening at the clubrooms of the Elks and the entire proceeds were donated to the fund for the relief of the Near East. The affair was a yama yama event which drew as many couples as could be accommodated on the floor. Director Billy Young was there with his orchestra and the very latest dance selections which he prepared on his recent visit to the coast. At midnight punch was served and dancing continued until 1 a. m. of this morning.

HOW "BILL" FANCHINI
GOT HIS NICKNAME

There is no "Bill" about Juan Fanchini, the jovial leader who has been engaged in chasing Nevada during his lifetime. Nevertheless everybody calls him "Bill" and they think they are right. The truth is that the nickname was applied to Mr. Fanchini by a bunch of kids living at Delamar nineteen years ago. Fanchini was leaving for the U. S. Marine Corps where he was a sergeant of the 10th Marine Regiment. He was a big, burly fellow and was known to all the kids in town. One day he was walking down the street and a bunch of kids were following him. They were calling him "Bill" and he was laughing at them. He said, "What's the matter with you kids? You're calling me 'Bill' and I'm not 'Bill'." They said, "You're 'Bill' because you're so big and burly." He said, "Well, I'll be 'Bill' from now on." And that's how he got his nickname.

AMUSEMENTS

VIOLA DANA IN A SPARKLING COMEDY

"Opportunity" with the winsome and inimitable Viola Dana in one of the most captivating roles she has ever had will be the attraction at the Butler today. The story of "Opportunity" centers around the adventures of Mary Willard, a young girl whose eagerness to see a big prize fight involves her in many amusing and unheard of difficulties. Her father's business rival, whom Mary had never seen, is a firm believer in the saying that opportunity knocks only once at every man's door. At the ring-side of the fight Mary's father's business rival, whom she had never seen, is a firm believer in the saying that opportunity knocks only once at every man's door. The Rosetta Divide Mining Company was incorporated November 25th, 1918, to operate the Rosetta group of four claims in the Tonopah Divide Mining District. While it is believed that an investment now in any of the Divide issues cannot fail to return a handsome profit within a short time, the Rosetta company feels that the surface showings on their property fully warrant the faith that they will be able to bring in another Divide.

The property is in direct line with the operations of the Gold Zone, Divide, Brougier Divide and Dividend. The Big Divide vein extends through the Rosetta group and there are exceptional showings of gold and silver at numerous points on the surface. Leasers are developing an unusually favorable showing on a block of this ground 300 feet square. They have already exposed some very high grade ore and specimens showing free gold are frequent.

THE COMPANY IS OFFERING A LIMITED AMOUNT OF TREASURY STOCK AT TEN CENTS PER SHARE

The stock will be listed on the San Francisco Stock Exchange about February 1st, 1919. Interested persons are invited to make a personal inspection of the property and your local broker will gladly make arrangements for conveyance. Consult your broker concerning this issue.
